General

Co-ordinator: Yannicke Belis, kamermuziek.kca@ap.be Responsible member of the artistic board and chairperson of the chamber music committee: Justus Grimm

Head of Music department: Inge Simoens

In Chamber Music lessons, you will be challenged to explore your own interpretation within the traditional framework. Together with your fellow musicians, you will search for a homogenous sound, maintaining your own personal accents and style all the while. The possibilities are almost limitless, both in terms of setting – from classical string quartets to unusual contemporary combinations – as well as in terms of repertoire – from the Viennese classics to new music. A core team of teaching staff will oversee the specifics of each instrumental group, and students may take lessons from various teachers during the course of the study programme.

During the bachelor's course, you will become familiar with the various styles, combinations and interpretations of the standard chamber music repertoire. This repertoire is also covered in the supporting subjects, Analysis, Aural Training, General Music Practice, and Practical Harmony and Improvisation. In this way, you will not only gain knowledge of the basic repertoire, but you will also work on essential practical competencies such as aural training and intonation.

As a master's student, alongside the traditional repertoire, you can integrate your own interests and choices in terms of programmes. For extra focus on chamber music, you have the option of taking the Chamber Music Extension course as an elective subject.

After your master's study, you may specialize further in a specific chamber music setting or certain chamber music repertoire by pursuing the Postgraduate Chamber Music.

Students interested in Historical Performance Practice or Contemporary Music can also focus on this for Chamber Music through participation in WHIPP or Project XXI.

The icing on the cake is the Chamber Music Festival in which students, teachers and international guests perform together in the Blauwe Zaal of the deSingel arts centre. During the festival, all students present their exam repertoire for the public in a professional setting, and the international guests and the chamber music teaching staff assess the various concert-exams.

Professional musicians at the highest level have active careers as chamber musicians, either as their principal focus or as a subsidiary activity. Chamber music combines perfectly with life as an orchestral musician, teaching, and with creating interdisciplinary projects.

Practical organisation

Each chamber music group will be assigned a specific chamber music teacher. Existing chamber music groups will be taken into account. A student who is part of a group which is already in existence can inform the Chamber Music staff via myarts.ap.be. Students who are not yet part of a chamber music group should attend the meeting with the chamber music group committee. Further information can be found in section 1. "Getting Started".

In the weeks following the meeting, the committee will put together the chamber music groups and assign teachers. Information about this can be found on myarts.ap.be together with the co-ordination of teachers and other group members.

The student must take the initiative to arrange the start of the lessons and must get in contact with his or her assigned teacher. Students are advised to make arrangements and communicate with their teacher in a timely manner. Teachers will report back to the Chamber Music co-ordinator as to groups which have not registered, and students who have not had contact with their teacher should also inform the Chamber Music co-ordinator.

CORONA: for the organization of lessons and exams, the Corona measures in force at that time will always have to be observed. If, due to circumstances, it is necessary to deviate from the Vademecum, this will always be communicated in advance.

Final competencies (M2)

- The student possesses a sense of rhythm, melodic line, harmonic knowledge, ensemble playing, sound-balance, intonation, technical mastery of the instrument(s), stylistic knowledge, analytical thinking skills, interpretation, musical maturity, artistic drive, originality and stage presence, all within the context of a public performance.
- The student expands his or her knowledge of international chamber music practice and achieves the standards expected at an international level in his or her performance.
- Using research and communication and within an individual or group context, the student can detect problem areas and search and find solutions.
- The student can take musical leadership in various settings in accordance with his or her individual role within the group and always shows respect within this role.
- The student applies the acquired knowledge in relation to his or her general cultural training to the analysis and interpretation of chamber music repertoire.
- The student acquires independent knowledge and understanding of the chamber music repertoire which is representative for his or her instrument, and masters the corresponding level (see the repertoire list).

Assessment

Assessment consists of 30% continuous assessment throughout the year and 70% skills test.

Continuous assessment throughout the year will take into account the student's attitude (punctuality, regularity of attendance, accuracy in terms of handing in programmes, effort, understanding, openness, follow-up on the assignments), interests and social skills (within the group, and in dealing with the teacher and audience), understanding of the repertoire, artistic developments during and between lessons, leadership skills, and independence.

Chamber Music takes the form of a weekly lesson and consists of 30 contact hours per academic year. Lesson times must be made at the start of the academic year. To receive a mark for the continuous assessment part, students must attend the lessons on a regular basis and contact their teachers before November 15th.

The skills tests take the form of a test each semester, an interim exam concert, a public, postgraduate chamber music exam or an exam concert during the Chamber Music Festival. The specific criteria used in the assessment are: ensemble playing techniques, stylistic knowledge, analysis and interpretation, artistic drive, individuality, originality and stage presence.

The student must remain available during the entire exam period relevant to him or her. The organisation of Chamber Music lessons is a complex task. Please therefore report problems or irregularities immediately. These will be handled with complete discretion by Yannicke Belis, Chamber Music co-ordinator.

1. Getting started

1.1 Chamber music ensembles which are already formed – electronic form

Each student can log in via myarts.ap.be and then select the chamber music section.

B1 students and external transfer students can request a temporary log-in so that they can make a start with their chamber music group via Kamermuziek.kca@ap.be, only if their study contract has not yet been finalised. If you already have your chamber music information, please provide the following details of the chamber music group by 1 October 2021 at the latest:

- Your surname and first name, instrument and level;
- The surname, first name, and instrument of each member of your fixed chamber music group;
- The contact person for the group - See section 2 "Contact Person";
- You may, as an option, indicate which works you would like to study with this group.

The programme for the course "Chamber Music Extension" must be submitted separately and must also involve another chamber music formation.

1.2 Students who still need to find others to play with – contact session

If you do not yet have a group or if you are a player or group short, please sign up for the chamber music contact session which will take place Friday 8 October 2021, 10h00 – 11h00, via Zoom. Prior to this session, please speak to your principal subject teacher about suitable chamber music repertoire. The Chamber Music course on Digitap also opens up a forum where students looking for fellow players can post their call.

1.3 Organisation of the groups and fixing lesson times

In the weeks following the contact meeting, the committee will put together the chamber music groups and assign teachers. Pre-existing chamber music groups will be taken into account. The chamber music groups will be announced at the end of October on myarts.ap.be. Before November 15th students must take the initiative to contact the assigned teachers to schedule their weekly lesson and discuss repertoire to be studied during the year.

2. Contact person

Each ensemble must nominate a contact person. The contact person must take care of sheet music and scores, must make rehearsal times with the other ensemble members, and make appointments with the teacher about lesson times. If a student is going to be absent from a lesson, the contact person must inform the teacher at least one week before the lesson, and the teacher will then determine with which students he or she will work during the scheduled lesson. If the contact person does not fulfil the role or does not do so satisfactorily, the other ensemble members should report this to the chamber music teacher.

3. Exam arrangements

3.1 Exams, exam period and gradings

Students of Chamber Music 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 are assessed each semester with their chamber music group(s):

- A half-yearly exam will take place during the official exam period in January between 13 January 2022 and 27 January 2022.
- A yearly exam will take place during the Chamber Music Festival: Friday 29 April to Wednesday 4 May 2022 inclusive.

The exam programme from the second semester exam, or part of it, can potentially already be presented in the Chamber Music exam on 11 March 2022.

Assessment format:

Continuous assessment throughout the year: 30%

Practical exams: 70%

Postgraduate Chamber Music students have one public chamber music exam.

The exam programme from the half-yearly exam, or part of it, can potentially be presented in the Chamber Music exam concert on 11 March 2022.

If a student plays in an ensemble in a postgraduate exam, the result of this and the repertoire presented may be counted towards the yearly exam.

Assessment format - Practical exam: 100%

Pianists who take the Lied class as part of Chamber Music must abide by the exam rules of the Lied class. Each semester they must perform an exam with their Lied duo:

- A half-yearly exam in the period between 13 January to 27 January 2022 inclusive; and
- A yearly exam during the regular exam period in June 2022. This exam usually takes place in the last week of June.

The half-yearly exam in January is compulsory.
Assessment format:
Continuous assessment throughout the year: 30%
Practical exams: 70%

All students and chamber music teachers must be available during the entire Chamber Music Festival period!

3.2 Registration of exam programmes

- The exam programme consists of repertoire from the proposed study programme (listed by department and level under section 8, "Overview Exam Programmes"). Collaboratieve Piano students who take the Lied class must also add their repertoire and timings to MyArts.
- Student must fill in their exam programme for each semester before the specified deadline. This can be done via your personal log-in on myarts.ap.be. The deadline will be communicated to students via Digitap and the AP email address.
- The deadlines for registering exam programmes will be announced plenty of time in advance via Digitap and the official AP email address. These deadlines are binding. Students who do not submit their programmes in time will not be eligible to take their exam and they will be referred to the following exam period.
- The chamber music teachers then check the programmes and timings and give their approval or otherwise.
- Students must email their scores 1 day before the exam repertoire to all jury members (name.surname@ap.be)
- The final exam arrangements will be communicated at least one week before the exam via the AP email address and via myarts.ap.be.

3.3 Content of the exam programme

Only chamber music works are eligible to be used as exam repertoire (i.e. no concert works, reductions, arrangements of works in which two instruments play an identical part).

If you wish to be considered for the main concerts in the Chamber Music Festival, you are advised to preferably present a complete work.

An overview of the representative exam repertoire for each level can be found in the attachment to this vademecum.

Students can present a chamber music work only one time in an exam and may not repeat repertoire in exams in subsequent study years.

Works presented in the instrumental examinations may not be retaken for chamber music.

3.4 Availability

Students and the members of their chamber music ensembles must be available for the entire exam period.

In very exceptional cases, if a student cannot attend a particular time, an exception can be requested by sending an email to Yannicke Belis: kamermuziek.kca@ap.be.

Deadlines:

- Before 17 December 2021 for the 1st semester.
- Before 1 April 2022 for the 2nd semester.

The student's request will be investigated, but no approval for a special arrangement can be guaranteed. Once the schedule has been published, no changes will be made.

3.5 Jury

The exam jury will consist of:

- The chairperson;
- A selection of chamber music teachers
- Instrumental teachers, who may optionally also attend the exams.

3.6 Chamber Music Festival

In order to give the chamber music exams more of a sense of occasion, they have been bundled together in recent years to form a public Chamber Music Festival from Friday 29 April to Wednesday 4 May 2022 inclusive.

We are convinced that the public aspect of the festival is an inspiring and motivating force for students and teachers. Furthermore, by taking the chamber music exams out of the busy month of June, more breathing space is given for other yearly exams and public tests.

Exams in concert format will take place throughout the entire festival period. The festival spans entire days, from the morning to the evening.

All concert exams in the festival are open to the public.

Certain main concerts will receive extra external promotion. The selection of the groups for these more prestigious concerts will be undertaken by the teaching staff on the basis of the progress and effort of the group (i.e. by the continuous assessment throughout the year). Our goal is to select the best-presented groups for these sessions and to create concerts with diverse settings and a broad jury, with a presentation and a programme flyer.

All students and chamber music teachers must be available during the entire Chamber Music Festival period!

3.7 'Repliek'

Ensembles must always be formed using students from the KCA. Requests for exceptions to this rule may be directed in written format to the chamber music co-ordinator, Yannicke Belis, via (kamermuziek.kca@ap.be). Only players who are members of fixed groups and can provide evidence of concerts outside the Conservatoire will be eligible to appeal this rule. Teachers/accompanists from the Conservatoire are not permitted to respond (except those from the Lied class).

3.8 Postponed exams

Exam concert for students postponing half-yearly exams or replacing yearly exams (with assessment formats)

Rather than performing in the Chamber Music Festival, students are given the chance to present their final programme (or a part of it) during an exam on 11 March 2022. Half-yearly exams which have had to be postponed may take place during this exam. Registration for this is possible from November 2021 via Kamermuziek.kca@ap.be. The instruments required must be requested from the Production Department one month before the exam at the latest.

In June there is a postponed exam for students who missed their exam during the Chamber Music Festival due to force majeure. The date will be announced in the Classical Music exam schedule.

4. Exemptions/Waivers & Extensions

4.1 Exemptions or waivers

In certain circumstances, a student may be exempted from the chamber music programme. Such an exemption must be applied for by contacting the chamber music co-ordinator, Yannicke Belis, via kamermuziek.kca@ap.be. The request will be forwarded to the chamber music committee.

4.2 Extension

Students have the possibility to choose the optional subject, Chamber Music Extension, which is worth three or six study points. This means that the student, in addition to the official programme of 3 study points, takes on an additional chamber music group, always with a minimum of 30 minutes of additional repertoire, of which 20 minutes will be presented during the Chamber Music Festival. When submitting the exam programme, the student must clearly specify which parts of the programme are to be counted towards the optional subject, Chamber Music Extension.

Students who opt for the extension programme must bear in mind the need to present repertoire which is representative of this level. This should preferably be complete works with the goal of further development of the discipline of chamber music.

The group for Chamber Music extension consists of the same people as your regular Chamber Music group (you stay in the same bubble).

5. Masterclasses

See Digitap for announcements and registration.
